

Back By Popular Demand...Disney Cruise Line Returns to the West Coast in 2008!

As an Authorized Disney Vacation Planner, you are among the first to hear this incredible announcement from Disney Cruise Line®... the Disney Magic® cruise ship will return to the West Coast for the summer of 2008 to once again offer seven-night cruise vacations to the Mexican Riviera!

Beginning May 25, 2008, the Disney Magic is scheduled to sail 12 consecutive seven-night cruise vacations from the Port of Los Angeles to Mexican Riviera ports of Cabo San Lucas, Mazatlan and Puerto Vallarta.

In addition to the 12 Mexican Riviera cruises, Disney Cruise Line will also offer two 15-night repositioning cruises through the Panama Canal. The Disney Magic will depart Port Canaveral and head west on May 10, 2008, with the return cruise to Florida scheduled for Aug. 17, 2008.

This marks the second time the 2,700 passenger ship has sailed from the Port of Los Angeles, giving your Clients another opportunity to sail this popular itinerary and providing West Coast residents with a prime opportunity to experience a Disney Cruise Line vacation.

Both special itineraries are available for booking starting Jan. 31, 2007, so tell your Clients today about this exciting announcement. To learn even more about these itineraries, "sail over" to disneytravelagents.com today.
